Re: FCC Docket RM-10330 (Proposal for Shielding of Certain Electronics Equipment Against an Electromagnetic Pulse)

Dear FCC Commissioners and Staff,

Along with Nickolaus E. Leggett aka N3NL, of Reston, Virginia, I am the co-author of the Petition For Rulemaking which has triggered FCC Docket RM-10330.

This Petition For Rulemaking would mandate the shielding of certain vital electronics equipment, up to a level of 100,000 volts per meter, against the possible hostile use of an Electromagnetic Pulse. The same shielding would also reduce, or in some cases even eliminate, outgoing Electromagnetic Radiation from the shielded equipment, thereby also addressing the serious health concerns raised by The EMR Network and others.

In addition, I have co-authored, with Nickolaus Leggett, a June 24, 2002 Petition For Reconsideration, which challenges the FCC staff's denial of the Petition For Rulemaking.

Previously provided contact information must now be updated. Having completed recent coursework at the University of Denver School of Law, and needing to be closer (at least temporarily) to certain loved ones on the East Coast, I have returned from Colorado to my "home base" in Connecticut. My new contact information is as follows:
